CIRCULAR

10.04.2021

Dear Proud Mothers

It's with reference to my previous circular regarding classes of communication skills exclusively for mothers because for a large majority of time they spend with their children. Never forget that I am putting in this extra effort foreseeing the future of your little ones. You must never forget that communication is deemed as the greatest attribute in the world and as such your kids must be prepared for that world. Though the response is good yet not excellent because most of you are shy or hesitant or do not realize the significance. It will not only be English but it will help you in grooming your child well owing to my long and vast experience. The session will begin from April 15, 2021 at 12:30 pm till 01:15 pm randomly. It will be more useful for those who are not much familiar with the nuisances of language rather than for those who are already fluent. Come on, it's free of cost and someone so earnestly wants to deliver the goods. Thus step-up enthusiastically. The deadline for reservation is April 12, 2021.

Thanks
